EXPERIENCE

Waiter, Tse Noodle, Oxford, UK — 2021-2022

As a server at a small noodle shop, I was responsible for waiting tables, bringing orders, cleaning dishes, managing change, keeping inventory, and stocking certain items like tissues and ingredients. Working in this fast-paced environment taught me valuable lessons in time management, multi-tasking, and customer service. I learned to be quick on my feet, to stay calm under pressure, and to prioritise the needs of the customers. Overall, I am grateful for this opportunity as it provided me with practical skills and taught me the importance of hard work and dedication.

Faculty Student Ambassador, Oxford Brookes University, Oxford, UK — 2021-2022

As an Oxford Brookes Faculty Student Ambassador, I represented the university and promoted Anthropology to prospective students. I led campus tours and participated in workshops and talks, inspiring students to consider Anthropology as their major. As a representative for my course, I also provided valuable guidance to current students, contributing to a sense of community within the department.

Campus Monitor, Oxford Brookes University, Oxford, UK — 2020-2021

As a COVID-19 campus monitor, I enforced safety protocols for social distancing, hygiene, and direction flow, while monitoring social study spaces. I provided responsive support to students and staff when necessary and remained committed to maintaining a safe and healthy campus environment.

Volunteer Fundraiser, SolidariTee, Oxford, UK — 2020-2021

As a volunteer for Solidaritee, a UK-based charity that supports legal aid for refugees and asylum seekers, I played a key role in organizing fundraising events and managing the charity's social media accounts to raise awareness about the cause. Solidaritee sells T-shirts and merchandise designed by artists, and I successfully sold around 100 shirts for £10 each, generating a total of £1000 in profits for the charity.

Bartender, Cafe Opium, Oxford, UK — June 2019 - December 2019

As a bartender at Cafe Opium in Oxford city center, I provided prompt and friendly service to customers, serving approximately 80 customers per night, while ensuring a positive dining experience. In addition to preparing a variety of non-alcoholic beverages, I also efficiently served beer, shots, and wine during the night shift. I regularly restocked inventory and maintained a clean and organised bar area, contributing to a professional work environment.

Volunteer, Oxfam, Oxford, UK — June 2016

Collaborated with a team of dedicated volunteers at an Oxfam store in the heart of Oxford city center, providing critical support to the organisation's mission to fight poverty worldwide. Assisted in managing the cash register and maintaining inventory, while also contributing to the organisation and presentation of merchandise on shelves and in displays. Additionally, actively engaged with customers and promoted the organisation's campaigns and initiatives, helping to raise awareness and funds for vital humanitarian work.

Web Developer Intern, Kinetic Design LTD, Hong Kong — November 2014

I secured an opportunity for an internship with Kinetic Design LTD, a web development and graphic design company. This opportunity allowed me to actively participate in the development of websites using various technologies such as HTML, PHP, and MySQL. During my time at Kinetic Design, I gained hands-on experience in coding, troubleshooting, and collaborating with team members on projects.
